ANNOUNCEMENT

In planning and assembling this 77th annual Iowa State Fair and Exposition, it has been the goal of the board of directors to make it more than ever of practical educational benefit to the tens of thousands who will study its agricultural, animal husbandry, industrial and educational exhibits during the ten days, August 26 to September 4.

While the lighter side of the fair, its amusements and recreational events are an integral part of the program, the exposition is essentially an educational institution, seeking to teach new lessons each year in better farming methods, better livestock standards, improvement of homes, extension of boys and girls' club work, and the general development of Iowa's agricultural and industrial potentialities. In assembling its many thousands of exhibits in these fields, the fair has received the whole-hearted cooperation of scores of leading Iowa organizations and hundreds of public spirited individuals, and the board wishes to acknowledge this cooperation—especially the splendid assistance of the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union, State Federation of Women's Clubs, Boys and Girls' 4-H Clubs, the County Agents of Iowa, the Department of Agriculture, Extension Department, Iowa State College, and kindred groups.

While it is impossible, in the limited space here available, to mention all features of the exposition, there is given in the following pages a summary of a few of the highlights which the fair visitor will find particularly worth while.

J. P. MULLEN, FONDA.
Superintendent of Machinery.

NATIONAL LIVESTOCK SHOW.

Presenting the greatest array of horses, cattle, swine and sheep in recent years, the National Livestock Show amply lives up to its name this season with entries from almost half the states of the Union. With livestock premiums totalling approximately $70,000, and with over 6,000 head of fine livestock ready for judging, the exposition is considered to be the largest of its kind at any state fair in North America in 1931. Judging will be in progress almost continuously from August 27 through September 3, with free seating accommodations for the public in the Livestock Pavilion. Particular attention is called this year to the baby beef and pure bred heifer show in which boy and girl 4-H club members from counties throughout the state are presenting their own cattle in competition. Both baby beeves and heifers are on display in the Baby Beef Barn and the barn adjoining on the west. Boys and girls' pigs are shown in the Swine Pavilion, lambs in the Sheep Barn, colts in the Horse Barn, and poultry in the Poultry Building. The Boys and Girls' Livestock Show at the 1931 Iowa State Fair and Exposition is the largest show of its kind ever held in the United States, with more than 1,600 entries by boy and girl farmers.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Iowa's continued leadership in every field of agriculture is demonstrated in the many outstanding exhibits and special features presented in the Agricultural Building. Virtually every type of agricultural product grown in Iowa is represented in this building, filled with displays of crops, fruits, and garden produce grown in every part of Iowa. Worthy of special study are the county farm bureau exhibits showing the leading projects which various county organizations have carried out during the past year, and the special county group exhibits of prize grains and produce. The state-wide Horticultural Show is also featured in this building lending further to the variety and color of the exhibits. Closely akin to agriculture are culinary art and pantry stores, which are displayed on the south balcony of the Agricultural Building. This building also houses the Midwest Gladiolus Show, presenting a gorgeous array of beautiful flowers. Special attention is also called to the State Garden Clubs exhibits, housed on the balcony—a very unusual and beautiful feature.

FARM BUREAU.

The Iowa Farm Bureau Federation always plays an important part in the exhibits at the Iowa State Fair, and 1931 finds this organization presenting even more features than in the past. Thirty-seven county farm bureaus this year have brought special project exhibits to the fair presenting work they have carried out during the past twelve months. The seven projects of the men's farm bureaus are housed in booths located on the ground floor of the Agricultural Building, while the thirty projects of the women's farm bureaus are located in the Women and Children's Building. Farm Bureau Day, August 31, will be one of the big days of the fair. An all-day program has been planned which will be featured by the appearance of Dr. Chas. Mayo, noted medical authority of Rochester, Minn., and "Farmer" Brown, special representative of the Federal Farm Board, who will give special addresses during the day. The morning meeting will be marked by the presentation of the Home and Community Awards medal to eleven farm women who have rendered outstanding service in their districts, while women who have rendered conspicuous service in their respective counties will receive special certificates. These awards are made following a state-wide search conducted by the Des Moines Register and Tribune. An added feature this year is the farm bureau rural community drama project which will be presented in the Women and Children's Building each day of the fair. Seven county farm bureaus, which have conducted rural dramatic work during the year, will present their prize winning one-act plays, one each morning and one each afternoon of the exposition. As in the past, the Farm Bureau camp ground is situated just inside the Poultry Building entrance to the main camp, with individual areas set aside for members from each county in the state. A general farm bureau headquarters for members is maintained throughout the fair in a special booth in the Agricultural Building, while state federation groups are represented near-by in a special tent, and the livestock efforts of the organization have a booth in the livestock barns.

FARMERS' UNION.

The Iowa Farmers' Union will again hold "open house" to members and friends throughout the period of the fair in its special exhibit building located just east of the Fish and Game Building on Grand Avenue. Many interesting displays are to be found in this building and farmers are invited to stop in and get acquainted with officers and directors of the Farmers' Union while attending the fair. A special section of the free camp ground has been set aside for the Farmers' Union members, in the tract located just east of the Grand Avenue entrance to the main camp. All members of the organization are urged to make full use of this camp ground free of charge. The outstanding feature of the Farmers' Union program at the fair will be the Farmers' Union Day, headlining a state-wide meeting in the Assembly Tent east of the Livestock Pavilion on Wednesday afternoon, September 2. Hon. Ed. Dunn, well known attorney and agricultural leader of Mason City, will give the principal address of the afternoon.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS.

Popularity of the series of Vocational Agriculture exhibits at past state fairs and the success of this work during the year, has led to the presentation of a new series of exhibits this year. These are to be found on the second floor of the Educational Building. Five special project booths are included in the display, under the supervision of the Vocational Agriculture Department of the five leading schools of the state. Students and instructors in Vocational Agriculture have been invited to make their headquarters at these booths while attending the fair.

EDUCATIONAL EXPOSITION.

A large portion of the new $500,000 Educational Building is again given here over to the state-wide exhibit showing the work being done in the leading universities, colleges, public and private schools of the state. On the ground floor of this building are exhibits by the State University, Iowa State College, State Teachers' College, State Board of Control, School for the Blind, School for the Deaf, Highway Commission, and Boys and Girls' 4-H Clubs. On the second floor are located exhibits by more than 100 public schools of Iowa, leading independent and denominational colleges, and special social and welfare institutions. Featuring the State University exhibit is the first public demonstration of television ever conducted in Iowa which shows just how television works and the scientific secrets back of this new radio discovery.

F. E. SHELDON, MT. AYR.
Treasurer Iowa State Fair and Exposition.

IOWA ART SALON.

The Iowa Art Salon is also housed on the second floor of the Educational Building. Embracing the works of many of the state's best known painters and designers, both amateurs and professionals, the best works of Iowa artists is presented. In addition to the Iowa pictures the display includes the Hoosier Salon Loan exhibit, comprising the canvases of some of the nation's most famous painters. This entire display is open to the public throughout the period of the fair.

INDUSTRIAL AND MACHINERY SHOW.

The latest types of farm machinery and home conveniences, assembled from all parts of the United States, are on exhibition to the public in the annual Industrial and Machinery Show which is located on the forty-acre tract south of Grand Avenue, just inside the Grand Avenue entrance. While this exhibit places special emphasis on farm equipment, it also comprises scores of new household conveniences of interest to Iowa home owners, as well as trucks, tractors and other items of heavy machinery. This year's Industrial and Machinery Show offers an ideal opportunity for the person considering the purchase of new equipment to obtain first hand information and comparison of numerous competing makes of products.

MID-SEASON MOTOR SHOW.

Iowa's Annual Mid-Season Motor Show will be found in Machinery Hall, the hub of the machinery exposition. This show embraces the newest 1931 creations by the nation's foremost automobile manufacturers. Due to the many improvements which have been made in cars during the past six months, this show will prove especially interesting to visitors at the 1931 Iowa State Fair.

IOWA WILD LIFE EXHIBIT.

Fish and game, native to Iowa, which for the past several years has been one of the most popular exhibits of the Iowa State Fair, is found again this year in the beautiful Fish and Game Building on Grand Avenue. Complete in every detail, Iowa nature lovers will find this exhibit a source of much pleasure and of real interest. Approximately 5,000 living fish are housed in the special aquariums, while in adjoining pens and cages are shown numerous species of birds and animal families typical of the game of the state. In addition to the live exhibits, moving pictures are shown daily during the fair, presenting the work of the Fish and Game Department, particularly stressing conservation of Iowa wild life.

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL.

The State Fair Board calls special attention to the exhibit of the Iowa State Board of Control located on the ground floor of the Educational Building. Examples of the work carried on in fifteen different institutions operated by this department of the state government are interestingly presented. Of particular interest to livestock breeders is the Board of Control herd of dairy cattle from the hospitals and welfare institutions which are shown in the Cattle Barn.

BOYS AND GIRLS' 4-H CLUB CONGRESS.

The largest Boys and Girls' 4-H Club Congress to be presented by any state in the Union is the record which is being set at the 1931 Iowa State Fair. Over 2,000 junior farmers are participating in competition for the more than $15,000 in cash premiums offered. Club features of the fair are in progress from the opening through the closing day of the fair. The livestock department is featured by the entry of more than 1,600 animals brought to Des Moines by club boys and girls—the largest junior stock show in the United States. In addition to this feature, the Boys and Girls' Club section of the Educational Building is the scene of demonstrations and contests in progress each morning and afternoon of the exposition. These demonstrations feature all manner of club projects and activities. Boys and girls' livestock judging contests are held Thursday and Friday of the fair in the Livestock Pavilion and are open to the public free of charge. Livestock exhibited by Iowa's junior farmers is housed in the respective barns devoted to the various departments and are well worth a visit. Due to the increase in numbers of boys and girls exhibiting in this department of the exposition, more dormitories have been erected on the fair grounds to house the club workers during their stay at the fair. The facilities of these dormitories are provided free of charge to club participants, and contestants are boarded at the special Club Dining Hall where they receive the best of food at actual cost. Selected members of the clubs will again have charge of the ushering in the grandstand and will assist in the Livestock Pavilion.

JUDGING EVENTS.

Judging in all the principal livestock classes of the National Livestock Show is in progress each day and the public is invited to witness any and all these events. Free seating accommodations are provided both in the Livestock Pavilion and in the open-air judging ring located west of the brick horse barn. Boys and girls' livestock is judged on Friday and Saturday, August 28 and 29, while judging in the open classes begins on Monday, August 31, continuing through Thursday, September 3. Horses are judged in the mornings, and cattle in the afternoons in the Livestock Pavilion. Swine judging is continuous throughout each day in the Swine Barn. Sheep are judged in the Sheep Barn. Judging for the poultry division takes place at the Poultry Building on Friday and Saturday, August 28 and 29. The agricultural classes and numerous other departments are judged in the respective buildings where these exhibits are located, early during the exposition. Always an outstanding event, the Society Horse Show classes are judged on the evenings of August 31, September 1, September 2, and September 3, in the Livestock Pavilion. In addition to this, a few show horse and pony classes are judged in the open-air ring near the street car entrance.

IOWA STATE COLLEGE EXHIBIT.

Many different branches of the State College are represented in the exhibit which is located on the ground floor of the Educational Building. A unified exhibit is presented this year in the form of a formal garden planned by the Landscape Architecture Department and executed jointly with the Department of Horticulture. Around the edges of the exhibit, pictures of the principal points of interest on the college campus are presented. In the garden a model rock pool and another pool forming a waterfall are depicted. Fair visitors are urged to visit this unique exhibit.

UNIVERSITY OF IOWA.

Recent scientific discoveries including television, as well as the principal branches of learning represented at the State University of Iowa, are featured in the University of Iowa exhibit on the ground floor of the Educational Building. The first demonstration of television ever conducted in Iowa before a public audience is the outstanding feature. It shows just how television works and the scientific reasons back of this newest discovery which promises to revolutionize the radio industry. Another feature is an exhibit showing the exact scientific reasons why talking pictures talk, and their application to classroom use in schools. An additional feature is the famous mountain lion group from the Natural Science Museum at Iowa City.

IOWA STATE TEACHERS' COLLEGE.

Iowa educators are invited to make their headquarters at the Iowa State Teachers' College exhibit on the ground floor of the Educational Building. Many features of special interest to teachers as well as the general public will be presented, including the leading types of work now carried on at Cedar Falls. This exhibit will be of particular interest to those who may be contemplating entering the teaching profession.

IOWA WOMEN'S EXPOSITION.

The State-wide Women's Exposition occupies two of the largest buildings on the fair grounds, the Women and Children's Building and the Exposition Building, presenting countless exhibits and features of special interest to Iowa women. The exposition is under the sponsorship of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs, the Iowa Farm Bureau federation, the Parent-Teachers' Association, and other representative groups. In the Women and Children's Building are housed the thirty exhibits of the women's county farm bureaus, the Iowa Baby Health contest, the State Department of Health exhibit, while in the auditorium are presented each day the one-act plays by county farm bureau groups, the Little Theater plays to be presented daily by the Green Room Players of Des Moines, as well as numerous other special features and programs including home economics demonstrations, artistic dances, special lectures, style shows, etc. In the Exposition Building, displays of fancy work, sewing, interior decoration, home furnishing and hand-painted china are to be found. Entries in the culinary and canning events are presented on the balcony of the Agricultural Building. The Women and Children's Building provides large porches, quiet rest rooms, and a special day nursery in charge of competent nurses, for the convenience of women visitors. The State Library Commission presents a display on the second floor of this building which features the Iowa Traveling Library and the special service provided for rural communities and rural people.

AUTOGIRO.

Heretofore the Autogiro has been seen only at a few of the national aircraft shows. The State Fair (in cooperation with the Des Moines Register-Tribune) takes pleasure in presenting the first public demonstrations of the Autogiro ever made in Iowa, as a headline feature each afternoon of the fair. Demonstrations are made each afternoon with take-offs directly in front of the grandstand. Such features as "hovering in air," descending almost vertically at a slower rate of speed than a parachute travels, and other amazing feats are presented. Pilot Charles W. Gatschett, well-known flyer of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, demonstrates the giro. In addition to the daily flights, the Autogiro is on exhibition in a special tent northeast of the race track where those wishing to make a close-up inspection of the machine may do so.

GLIDER.

Another feature is the daily glider exhibition offered each afternoon from August 28 through September 4. James H. Buchanan, well known Iowa flyer, formerly connected with the Curtiss Robertson Airplane Company, presents the glider flights. Shock cord launching as well as auto towing launching are the methods used in demonstrating the plane. The glider used here is the same type used in teaching beginners the rudiments of flying, and the same type which is used by glider clubs which have been so popular in the east, and which are today becoming popular in all sections of this state. Pilot Buchanan makes the flights to conform with the direction of the wind and general air conditions of the day.

TEAM PULLING CONTEST.

Again this year the Iowa State Fair is offering more than $600 in cash prizes for the champion draft teams of Iowa in the annual state-wide pulling contest held on Monday and Tuesday, August 31 and September 1. As in the past, the contest will be staged on the pulling field just south of the street car entrance. Free seating accommodations are provided on each side of the field for more than 3,000 spectators. The Team Pulling Contest is sponsored jointly by the Horse Association of America, and the Iowa State Fair.

IOWA CHECKER TOURNAMENT.

The 1931 State-wide Checker Tournament, open to any player in Iowa, will take place on the veranda of the Administration Building, Monday and Tuesday, August 31 and September 1. A total of $60 will be awarded in cash prizes to the winners. The public is invited to view this event, which is open to any checker player in Iowa.

HORSESHOE PITCHING TOURNAMENT.

The annual State Horseshoe Pitching Tournament, open to all Iowa players, will open at the horseshoe courts immediately north of the Horse Barn, Monday noon, August 31, continuing through Wednesday, September 2. Courts are in excellent shape, and special stands are provided to accommodate the large crowds which annually witness this event. Four hundred dollars in cash prizes will be awarded.

OLD FIDDLERS' CONTEST.

IOWA STATE FAIR CAMP AND NEW BATH HOUSE.

Each year finds new improvements on the beautifully wooded one hundred acre camp grounds set aside exclusively for the use of those who wish to camp out during the period of the fair. This year a new shower bath house has been erected on the grounds for the convenience of campers. It is of brick construction and is located on A Avenue and Fifth Street just north of the Farm Bureau camp headquarters. There are twenty-one shower baths for men and eighteen for women, with hot and cold water, towels and soap furnished, and special attendants in charge. A small charge is made to cover costs. Situated immediately east of the main fair grounds and provided with special entrances and exits connecting with the fair proper, the camp grounds provides many other splendid features such as city water service, sanitary facilities, electric lights, store, police and fire protection, etc. Those who want to camp out, but do not have the necessary equipment such as tents, cots and bedding, may obtain these necessities at the special warehouse located near the Grand Avenue camp grounds entrance.

INFORMATION.

The fair board and cooperating bodies maintain special information booths on the grounds for the convenience of state fair visitors. Information headquarters are found in the Administration Building, at the corner of Rock Island and Grand Avenue. This building also houses the general offices of the fair, headquarters for department superintendents, and the press bureau. Just west of the Administration Building, is the special information bureau booth maintained by the Chamber of Commerce and the Des Moines Automobile Club. Here visitors may obtain facts concerning the city of Des Moines, points of interest, how to get to various sections of the city, as well as highway information for the entire state of Iowa.

"Mine" is now three years of age. The event takes place as a feature of Children's Day at the fair, and all boys and girls under 15 years of age will be admitted free to the grounds. The birthday party takes place at 10 a. m. in front of the Grandstand, and is under the joint sponsorship of the Fair Board and the Des Moines Register and Tribune. For her party this year, "Mine" has a new bag of tricks to present—a feature of which is a real tug-of-war. Mine is to pit her strength against that of 50 boys as one event on the program. And Billy Lorette, the famous clown who has attended past birthday parties, is to act as master of ceremonies at the party. Special music and many other features including daylight fireworks are being planned for the Children's Day program, which marks the first regular day of the exposition.

RACING PROGRAM.

With more entries than ever before for the horse races on Iowa State Fair track, and more than a score of famous auto race drivers of the dirt tracks and speedways, the speed program this year promises more thrills than ever. Each afternoon program is featured by speed events with two days of auto racing and five days of horse racing. More than 300 fast trotters, pacers and runners are entered to compete for the large State Fair purses on August 29 and 31, September 1, 2, and 3. The new "barrier" system of starting races will be used for the first time in starting the events here this year. Each day's program is featured by running races as well as pacing and trotting events. The two-day auto race program, August 28 and September 4, includes many spectacular events and will present such speed stars as Gus Schroeder, Iowa State Fair champion; Babe Stapp, Indianapolis Speedway star; Swan Peterson, famous Swedish driver, and a score of others who have won fame in national speedway and dirt track meets.

CIRCUS AND HIPPODROME.

The afternoon and evening amphitheater program this year is featured by one of the largest and most spectacular groups of circus and hippodrome attractions ever presented at the fair. Outstanding acts from the leading show centers of the world are found in the list which includes famous clowns, trained animals, gymnasts, Arabian dervish whirlers, and all the other favorites of the sawdust ring. This complete hippodrome show is presented each afternoon and evening as a feature of the grandstand program.

MUSIC FESTIVAL.

The largest number of bands, orchestras and drum corps ever assembled in the state (14 different organizations) provides music for visitors at the 1931 Iowa State Fair. Headlining this music festival is Roy D. Smith and his Royal Scotch Highlanders, now completing their third successful tour of America, assisted by the famous Chicago Grand Opera Quartette. Other well known organizations appearing at the state fair are: the Wapello County Farm Bureau Band of 150 pieces; Hamilton County 4-H Club Band of 30 pieces; Madison County Farm Bureau Orchestra of 16 pieces; Dallas County 4-H Club Band of 40 pieces; Taylor County Band of 30 pieces; Argonne Post American Legion Band, accompanied by the Shrine Chanters; Newton Municipal Band; Old Soldiers' Drum Corps; Spanish War Veterans' Drum Corps; Ft. Dodge American Legion Drum Corps; the Lorimor High School Band, which won first honors in Iowa last year and which placed second in the national competition in Tulsa in May, and the Des Moines Playground Band.

MUSIC DAY.

Climaxing the Music Festival for the 1931 exposition is Music Day, Sunday, August 30, when musical groups will be heard in special programs in all sections of the fair grounds. There will be special afternoon and evening band concerts in front of the Grandstand, on the Plaza, and in the Livestock Pavilion. Again this year all main exhibit buildings will be open to the public on Sunday afternoon. Special religious services and Sunday School will be conducted in the morning by prominent church leaders of the state, in the Women's Building and the Livestock Pavilion.

SOCIETY HORSE SHOW.

More than $10,000 in premiums will be paid this year in the four evenings of Society Horse Shows held in the Livestock Pavilion, August 31, September 1, 2 and 3. Famous entries from the best known show horse stables in America, promising keen competition and many unusual and interesting classes, will be seen each evening of the show. The Society Horse Show opens at 7:30 p. m. and doors of the Livestock Pavilion are open at 7:00. Preceding the show events each evening will be a grand parade of prize winning livestock. Special musical features intersperse each evening's program.

CHINESE EXPOSITION.

The Iowa State Fair is one of the few points in the United States visited by the famous International Chinese Exhibition which has been allotted a large exhibit space in Machinery Hall. Famous in many sections of the East, this exhibit is now presented in its World Tour. Chinese works of art, figures in miniature, costly Chinese wedding gowns, and famous festival lanterns are a part of the exhibit, which required ten years to collect. An outstanding feature is the Chamber of Tortures, in which all the terrible instruments of torture used in China under the ancient imperial regime are shown. Madame F. Bari, who collected the exhibit, and her assistants give special lectures in connection with this exhibition throughout the period of the fair.

MIDWAY SHOWS.

The Beckmann and Gerety's World's Best Shows, 35 carloads of unusual sideshows and new riding devices, make their first appearance at the Iowa

"THE WORLD ON PARADE."

An International Extravaganza.

Prologue.

Two globe-trotting, entertainment-seeking tourists effervescing with joy at the prospects of a whirl through the old world's most famous amusement centers, arrive at the dock in New York. Through their pantomimic efforts, both clever and comical, and a limited amount of dialogue, what is to follow is made plain to the audience. The prologue ends with the happy comics rushing for the gangplank as the lilting melody of a good-bye song, sung by an Europe-bound group of passengers as the boat is leaving, reaches the ears of the spectators.

Specialties of high entertainment value will be interspersed between the scenes and major numbers, perfecting the smoothness of the performance, and the completeness of the continuity. This huge musical production is, in reality, "a show of the nations." Within the compass of its running time are offered array after array of the very cream of more than a dozen countries' best talent. An expeditious schedule necessitates the limiting of the number of countries portrayed. Nevertheless, these displays of international talent will be so placed as to become an integral part of the performances.

FRANCE

Entering into the main action of the performance—the tourists arrive in Paris. It is Mardi Gras time, with the world's fashion center bubbling over with excitement and filled with the spirit of the carnival. Gayety is on every side—in supreme reign. The American visitors enter into the festivities with awe and amazement at the unusualness of the entertainment, the gorgeousness of the costuming, and the bewilderment of myriad lights, of every hue. They are led a swift pace on a merry making tour of the hippodromes, the cabarets, the amusement gardens, and the gala celebrations. Music, song, and dance greet them everywhere. It may be the strains from a great band or the voice of a famous singer. Again it may be an amazing exhibition of terpsichorean art by a solo dancer, or by a ballet of beautiful girls. Then it may be the dare-deviltry of a troupe of French gymnasts or the thrilling performance of a group of aerial adagio dancers. It is a fast-moving panorama of marvelously colorful entertainment.

ENGLAND

Reluctant, the tourists leave the gay old French metropolis with their eyes turned toward England, and though they may not be aware of it, with even gayer and happier times ahead. The first stop brings them to an old English hunting lodge, and here they are treated to one of the most delightful sights of the entire trip, the "English Hunting Scene." The band strikes up the famous "A Hunting We Will Go," the stage fills with rows of beautiful huntresses, garbed in unique and striking riding habits. With whips cracking and heels clicking the ladies of the hunt present a sprightly and interesting exhibition of character-ballet dancing. The fine voices of the male hunters are heard to excellent advantage in this thrilling number. Wonderful music; outstanding specialties; and a mechanical device never before seen on an open-air stage, portraying running horses and their riders, and new ideas in lighting make this an episode long to be remembered by the audience.

ARABY

On to the land of enchantment and mystery—Araby—with its exotic charm: its weird music; its sun-bronzed strong men in the desert; its black-eyed dancing girls and its softly glowing lights. Here, the tourists are treated to a genuine thrill, the startling performance of ten stalwart Arabian athletes. Using no other supports than their own bodies, these whirling, gyrating, shouting physical marvels show remarkable skill and strength in building "human pyramids" of three, four, and five and six high formations, climaxing this feature of their offering with NINE of the troupe standing, hanging and wrapped about the body of a single member of the company. As ground and aerial tumblers, they are the peers of the world. Under the title, "Arabian Frolics," they present an exhibition that will bring the crowds to their feet with astonishment. Running concurrent with the main feature of this number are a series of excellent specialties, embracing new types of "stage business," songs, patter, dance, and music.

CHINA

China is the next stop, and with its Orientalism, its strange people and stranger customs, the tourists are again about to witness amusements peculiar to the far east. This number brings to the forefront China's newest sensation, the Wan Wan San Troupe, headed by the noted Dr. Mok San. It is the largest Chinese troupe ever to go on tour. To describe in detail the full routines of this company would require pages. Suffice to say that nowhere will a more versatile aggregation be found. With the calm thoroughness of the Orient, these conjurers, contortionists and gymnasts hold the spectators in wide-eyed suspense one moment, and the next rouse them with a thunder of applause. The music in the "China" number is a delight, vieing with the strongest features for favor. The ballet is also at its best, the ensembles being different and unique and the solo work unusually fine. Here and there are spotted bits of comedy and specialties of high merit.

AMERICA

Back in the United States the tourists have taken on even a fresher desire for pleasure seeking, as they are aware that it is the 4th of July and that Uncle Sam is putting on the world's greatest celebration—and "the world's greatest show." The occasion supplies a fitting climax to that which has gone before. From here on, until the last spark fades in the glorious and magnificent fireworks display, all is a great and rapidly moving panorama of spectacular entertainment. The audience is witnessing the greatest demonstration of the "living stage"—a demonstration in fact that could not be reproduced under a roof, or upon the screen. They are being mentally carried away by the vastness of the production; by the huge assemblage of artists taking part; by the achievement in staging; the floods of vari-colored lights; the tons and tons of equipment used; the area covered by the scenery and the masterful work that has been done in bringing all these essentials of a giant outdoor production to them in a complete and inspiring picture.

PERCHERON SPECIAL PRIZES.Class 25—Premier Breeder, Banner.*Class 26—Premier Exhibitor, Banner.*BELGIANS—DIVISION NO. 2.*Amount Offered in This Division, $2,585.

The American Association of Importers and Breeders of Belgian Draft Horses, Wabash, Indiana, Offers $120 Special Money and Ribbons on the Individual and Champion Classes, and $100 on the Belgian Colt Stake, which will be paid direct to the winning exhibitors by the Belgian Association. They also award Sterling Silver Trophies to the Grand Champion Stallion and Mare.

BELGIAN SPECIAL GRAND PRIZE.

The Societe Royal Le Cheval De Trait Belge of Belgium, through its secretary, Chevalier Hynderick de Theulegoet, of Bruxelles, Belgium, has presented to the American Association of Importers and Breeders of Belgian Draft Horses, the "Belgian Breeders Cup," given to celebrate the friendship between the American and Belgian breeders of the marvelous Belgian draft horse. It was left to the American Association, to designate at what Fair or Show this cup should be given and it was decided by the board to give it to the Iowa State Fair under the following stipulation: This cup is to be awarded to the exhibitor of the best Belgian stallion or mare of the 1931 show, born in America or imported from Belgium and registered in either the American Stud-Book or the Stud-Book of Belgium. No horse or mare shall be eligible to compete for this prize who has been awarded either the King Albert Cup or the Chevalier Hynderick Cup, offered by said Societe of Belgium. The same breeder, however, may enter other horses and compete for this prize. The horse awarded the "Belgian Breeders Cup" at this show, may compete for the cup offered by said Societe of Belgium, at both the National Belgian Horse Show of Waterloo, Iowa, and for the one at the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, in 1931.

WALLACES' FARMER AND Iowa Homestead

extends to state fair visitors a cordial invitation to visit its headquarters in the east end of Machinery Hall and to visit its large and attractive plant at 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

We like to get better acquainted with our farm friends and to confer with them about matters of mutual interest. We like also to meet manufacturers and their representatives on the occasion of their visit to the state fair.

Our headquarters in Machinery Hall are maintained from 8:00 A. M. to 6:00 P. M. Our plant at 19th Street and Grand Avenue, where nearly 300 people are employed, is open for inspection by visitors from 9:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M. It is one of the largest and most complete printing establishments in the West, and on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays our folks can see the paper being printed on the largest farm paper printing press in the world. It is a real sight.

Wallaces' Farmer and Iowa Homestead reaches approximately 95 per cent of the farm homes in Iowa. It studies the needs of every member of the farm family and is a welcome visitor to all.

Come in and get acquainted with us. We are friendly people and like to meet our friends on the farm as well as our friends in the manufacturing business who are patrons of our advertising columns. If there are any questions you wish to ask with regard to farm crops and livestock or with regard to Iowa and its agricultural resources, we have the information available. By all means, come in and get acquainted.
